

Transcription

It is now time to be spontaneous. It is sad that people are not often spontaneous in our society. We need to jump around. We need to bow. We need to clap our hands over our head. We need to make everyone here frown upon the thought of someone drinking a beer.

One of your spontaneous They're often hilarious. People don't rap enough.

In my mind, I have a butt. I have a picture. It's a commercial. There's a court scene. In the courtroom there's so much tension, you can cut it with a knife. Everyone is ripe with anticipation. The Honorable Judge Jones enters. The judge says, jury, "Have you reached your verdict?" The jury says, "Yes, your honor. It has been an honor to serve your honor. Counts One through Twenty Five: We find the defendant guilty. The judge says, "It is the opinion of this court that you are now formally charged with 25 counts of being guilty of being funky.”

Then the judge starts to do some fancy dancing. The most popular style. The judge says, in a musical voice while dancing, “Since you are guilty of being funky, I sentence you to a night for each charge of busting a move. I'd have it in Harry's Dance Club.” What an effective commercial that would be.

We could sing. or we could rap yo yo yo it's time to go you are not ready for the show you have to be ready to see the action on the stage.

I turned around. Now I'm spinning around. This is a spontaneous act. You put it out, it's spontaneous.

I just collapsed. Not the typical collapse where the arms are at a diagonal close to the body, but a collapse where the arms are out, shoulder length. That type of clap is for you to think about.

We have to talk about O.J. Simpson. It has been a few years since that case went on, but We have to talk about it. Since the media did a horrible job covering it, so hard to find coverage, I'm not standing. The media had a blackout on the OJ Simpson case. It was very difficult to find some news. No channel had any coverage. What was up with this? This is journalism. It has a problem.

Shout for joy. Sit for joy. Stand for joy. Fall for joy.

Did you notice how many terms we use for movements are used in other sentences? For instance, stand is used to describe someone who has their feet on the ground, their knees straight, If we also say a stand on an issue, someone will be in position.

Fall is someone moving over, going towards the ground. Just as the trees in the forest do when lumber people cut them down.

And look out, I see two cars pulling in to our dirt parking lot. They have a curb up, which is cement, but they don't have cement for the rest of the parking lot.

Have you ever been stuck in cement? You need to ask yourself this question. Do not move until you have asked yourself this question.

I am pioneering a new form of psychotherapy. In this psychotherapy, the answer to all your problems stems from imagining that you are suspended in the concrete. You close your eyes, pretend your arms can't move. Close your eyes, pretend your legs are stuck in place. In fact, pretend your whole body is submerged. It's all you create.

Someone is getting out of their car.
Someone with a shopping bag and a purse.
There's some construction machinery over yonder.

Why don't people say over yonder anymore? Why not? The degeneration of our society has occurred because people don't use the phrase over yonder anymore.

Let's play a little game. The game is only two inches tall. What a great joke that was.
Let's play a big game. The game is five million feet tall. That was another witty joke.

If you have a sponge slapping on your face, we can pound on this chair to sing a song.

Janet Jackson got a nose job [said the news]. Why did she? Of course, Michael did too[said the news]. We are here to be not you.

We haven't seen Janet Jackson in concert. Her tickets were a very high price. We didn't pay for her. We should help. We said, Janet, "Wee want to Talk to us". Janet said. "Sure I will. In fact, I won't do my last five songs. So I can't do you." It was true, Janet talked to us for ten minutes. She squeezed a lot in that ten minutes. Chanted, chanted. She was a little nervous. She was singing a new song.

The song was called O.J. Simpson Is Not Guilty. O.J., we will sing the song for you. O.J. Simpson Is Not Guilty. In his book he talks about when he said, "I'm 100% not guilty." Most other defendants are only not guilty [says observers] to OJ Simpson, regardless that he was 100% not guilty and is not a shred of evidence to suggest he committed the crime.

Nonetheless, while waiting for his trial, he had to do some jail time. He complains about this in his book. Complains about this in his book. His lawyers, the best in the country [which the media dubbed the “Dream Team”], had absolutely nothing to do with his non-guilty verdict. His team team got him a non-guilty verdict, not because they were droned, but because He was not guilty. Not, not guilty. Not, not guilty. Is he not guilty?

We are going to start a new faith. O.J. Simpson is our God. We shall worship him in our churches. We'll build a steeple. He will be over us. Let us pray to OJ. OJ grant us the freedom to get away with murder. OJ grant us the freedom to get away with murder. OJ grant us the freedom to get away with murder OJ OJ OJ OJ OJ.

I heard some people criticize him, because he played golf the day he got out of jail. That'd be dull. does not ever go to the bathroom. He does not ever go to the bathroom. To stay in court all those days, it was fine for him. Other judges who have to go to the bathroom won't like that. To stay, listen to all the arguments. chair solo multi-purpose chair one could never imagine the chair being used not only to sit on but to play a tune O.J. Simpson is related to another Simpson. Bart!

There was one time on this website where the web mistress wrote a chapter in the story: the point was to finish the story. I did this by making up a story. Molly, Mark, Simpson, OJ, Simpson, Beavis, and Butthead. Another character, too. The webmistress did not like this very much. She wrote back to me. She said, "Don't write on this website if you're not going to be serious.” Obviously, she did not find it to be humorous.

Humorous. I pledge allegiance to the flag of OJ Simpson, to the not guilty, which he stands, one nation under the dream team, with clemency and truest justice for all. Can you see O.J. Simpson's not guilty? How proudly Johnny Cochran represented him in court. Also Robert Shapiro, F. Lee Bailey, gave proof to thy truth that OJ did not kill. It had nothing to do with his fancy rich lawyers. The dollar bills in fresh air. OJ's family was happy. Say, does the star of O.J. stand and nod waver to the land of O.J. Simpson, the home of O.J. Simpson?

We should start a library that has only books about O.J. Simpson. The library must have 50,000 volumes. All on O.J. Simpson. What an innovative library it shall be. An innovative library it shall be. What an innovative library it shall be. What an innovative library it shall be.

Let us now find another device besides fingers to hit on the chair. Hit fairly gently. I'm not seeing anything. It didn't work really well. But I continue to work, to look. We have found a fork. fork.

Look, listen. There's someone over there, but they act like I'm there. I remember that episode of The Simpsons where a bunch of them were barbershop quartet. It included Homer, Barney, maybe Ned Flanders. They sang a song about Sir Everett Koop. Maybe it was on that show. Maybe it was on others.

When people are doing barbershop quartets, it's neat to hear. Hello, hello, hello, hello. How about an O.J. Simpson barbershop quartet? O.J. Simpson is not guilty. Let's pretend the court ruled OJ Simpson was guilty. How could they be so stupid to have actually done that? Of course that didn't happen, but let's pretend I am on the street. Not guilty! Guilty! Guilty!

We need to riot! Let's throw these apples! Let's throw these apples! Let's throw forks! Let's make this a sophisticated riot! Let's throw mold! Let's throw mold! Let's throw... Now let's get on this again. The Mesh. I bet you thought 4 is the only good reading. And it's also because they're good for this.

Spontaneous is not the same as planned. When you are spontaneous, you take it how it comes, you do whatever comes back to your mind, even if it's not predicted. I wonder if OJ Simpson ever did any of the spontaneous in his trial. Instead of saying a fool and his or her money is two-parted, we shall say a fool believes OJ Simpson is guilty. How can someone ever believe that? Who's the most spontaneous person in the land? Is that Kirsten Grant?

Making meal with only cornmeal. Dry it up, cornmeal. Throw it all around. Instead of rice at weddings, use cornmeal. Cornmeal? Very real. You can put it in any wheel that turns around. Maybe the wheel can have a music box that sings a song. It can go high, fade to the side, tip it over.

I was reading this book about hazing at fraternities. I thought it was great, but the book told about one fraternity that got pulled over by some sheriffs which was on national television. The show, True Stories of the Highway Patrol. Stupid fraternities at Hayes.

Time to go. These are this for the rest of the show.

Good evening.